

Trying to make your relationship work again after difficulties?

The BAFTA award-winning team at The Garden Productions is making a new documentary series for Channel 4 about love and relationships.

We would like to speak to couples who have experienced difficulties but who are taking steps towards resolving their problems and hoping to work things out.

To find out more, please email love@thegardenproductions.tv or call Charlotte on 020 3465 9066 for an informal chat.

Calling does not oblige you to take part in the series.
